Seven-Year-Old School Girl Dies; Result of Auto Accident Tues.

Child Returning To Her Home Struck By Auto

As result of injuries received when struck by a car while walking on the Middlefield road, Marjorie Peterson, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Peterson of 4th avenue, North Fair Oaks, died Wednesday morning at the Community hospital.

The little girl was returning home from the Garfield school on the Middlefield road Tuesday afternoon and was going to cross the road to buy some crayons at a store near the school. According to the report of Mrs. Mary C. Fay, 150 Duane street, driver of the car, the girl stepped directly in front of the car.

The injured girl was brought to the office of Drs. Murphy and Mason. It was thought at first that aside from some bruises and scratches that she had escaped injury. As her condition grew worse, however, she was later removed to the hospital for examination as to internal injuries. An operation was performed and it was found that the spleen had been ruptured. The injury was so severe that the child passed away Wednesday morning.

The little girl was a pupil in the high second grade at the Garfield school. The father is connected with the Peninsula Railway in Palo Alto.

At the inquest conducted yesterday by Dr. J. C. McGovern, county coroner, at the Layng & Tinney funeral parlors, the accident was declared unavoidable by the jury. Mrs. Fay testified at the inquest and stated that when she first saw the little girl she was running along the Middlefield Road in the same direction that the car was traveling but on the left side of the pavement, and then suddenly darted in front of the machine. Mrs. Fay said she was going about 28 miles an hour at the time, and that it was impossible to avoid hitting the child.

BROWN vs BROWN HEARD HERE BY JUDGE BROWN

The superior court room on Wednesday was all brown. The case at trial was Brown vs Brown, Judge Brown of San Jose was the trial judge and Mrs. Azalia Brown was the court clerk. The Browns had full possession of the court room, but notwithstanding the air was sometimes blue when Attorney Wilson for the plaintiff and E. S. Bell, brother of the late Theodore Bell crossed swords on legal points. The color effect of the case will have no bearing on the court's decision for it will be decided on its merits. For ten years the suit has been before the court and has become brown with age.

Exchange Club Hears Talk on Local Plant

The manufacture of heat insulating materials from rock was described for members of the Redwood City Exchange Club Tuesday evening at the regular weekly meeting of the club by Elmer Hurrell, superintendent of the plant of the National Magnesia Manufacturing Co.

Hurrell described the methods used to transform magnesite, a mineral mined in various localities throughout the state into pipe covering for steam pipes and insulation for furnaces. The mineral is burned in the plant here and after being ground to a fine powder is subjected to the action of carbon-dioxide gas under pressure in water. The resulting magnesium carbonate forms the basis for the insulating material. It is combined with asbestos fibre to give it strength.

In recognition of Boy Scout Week, the Exchangites had as their guests Scoutmaster Frank Thompson and Scouts Byrd, Bennett and Winzler. Talks on Scouting were given by the Scouts and the Scoutmaster and Scout Bennett sang two songs for the clubmen.

The chairman of the meeting was Al Davies. The weekly autobiography was given by Leonard Casanova.

Sister of Late L. P. Behrens Dies

Mrs. Matilda M. Story, well-known resident of Palo, and a sister of the late L. P. Behrens of this city, passed away yesterday afternoon at the Palo Alto hospital. Her death was the result of pneumonia contracted as the indirect result of injuries sustained when she fell and broke her arm some weeks ago while on her way to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Behrens of this city. Mrs. Story fell at Palo Alto, and despite her injuries, took the train and came to Redwood City.

Mrs. Story was born in Shasta county. She had been a resident of Palo Alto for over 30 years, and was a frequent visitor at the Behrens home here. She has many friends in Redwood City, as well as in Palo Alto who are grieved at her passing. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. M. J. Mohr of Mt. Eden, Alameda county.

Funeral services have been arternoon. The services will be conranged for 3 o'clock Saturday afducted by the Rev. John Stephens, pastor of the Methodist Church of Palo Alto, assisted by the Rev. C. H. Stevens, pastor of Congregational Church of this city. The funeral will be held from the parlor of Roller & Hapgood on University avenue, Palo Alto. Interment will follow in the family plot in the cemetery at Dixon.

Redwood Scouts To Be Feature At S. M. Rally

Troop To Give First Public Seascout Exhibition

Redwood City Seascouts in Troop 145, under Scoutmaster John Rhoda, will give the first public demonstration of Seascouting ever staged in San Mateo county, when they appear on the program of the monster county-wide rally in San Mateo tonight, Feb. 7, to present special boat drills, mass semaphore signaling and and exhibitions night signaling over water. The Redwood City troop will also build a 24-foot whale boat on the stage.

More than 800 Scouts of the 1200 in the county will have part in the Indian pageant and other program features. Scouts of Redwood City Troop No. 105, under Scoutmaster Frank Thompson, will also participate.

The rally will serve to call attention to the Scout budget drive which opens next Monday for $10,000 of which Redwood City's quota will be $12000. Under the new budget plan ample provision for requirements of Redwood City troops, the largest in southern San Mateo county, will be made during the coming year and there will be no need for further benefits or the raising of funds for these units during the coming year, it is stated by George N. Keyston, general chairman.

Walter T. Kellogg will lead the drive here, assisted by leading business men of the city.

There will be no admission charge for the rally and all parents and others interested in Scout work are being especially invited. The complete program follows:

ANNULMENT OF YOUTH'S MARRIAGE IS SOUGHT

Claiming that her son was only 19 years of age and his bride but 15 when they were married in this city May 13 last year, Mrs. Charlotte Wilson of Daly City brought suit in the superior court yesterday to annul the marriage of Richard Wilson and Ruth Wilson. It is alleged in the complaint filed by Franklin Swart, attorney for the plaintiff, that the consent of neither parent of the youth to marry was obtained.

In securing their licenses to wed in May the young couple gave their ages as 21 and 18.

JAMES O. WALLACE IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Grace Wallace brought suit for divorce in the superior court yesterday against James O. Wallace, local business man. Extreme cruelty is alleged in the complaint, which was filed by Franklin Swart, attorney for Mrs. Wallace.

The couple was married at Sioux Falls, S. D., November 26, 1917. There is one child, a daughter 8 years of age. The mother asks the custody of the child.

Property rights have been settled out of court, according to the complaint.

FUNDS COMING FOR COUNTY'S ROAD SYSTEM

By HOMER L. ROBERTS

(United Press Staff Corespondent)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6—(UP) — San Mateo county's highway system is affected by two important announcements made at the state capital this week.

One, by B. B. Meek, director of public works, was that the United States government will spend nearly five million dollars on California roads in the federal highway system during the next three years, if the Dowell bill, now on its way through Congress, is passed and signed by President Hoover.

The other is that San Mateo county will receive $3,411 as its snare of the semi-annual apportionment of taxes from gross receipts upon motor busses and trucks in California, according to State Controller Ray L. Riley.

"This money is to be spent by the county on its highways," said Riley, " and represents one half of more than $600,000 collected by the state from its passenger and freight bus lines, which were placed in the same tax class with railroads and other public utilities by a measure passed by the people at the 1926 election."

Under the act, Riley explained, half the collections go to the state division of highways for construction and improvement of California's roads. The balance goes to counties, and is divided in the same manner as the money received from the tax on gasoline.

Bones Found Near San Carlos Said To Be Those of Indian

The skeleton dug up by workmen of the Pacific Gas & Electric Co., in the vicinty of "Babylon" at San Carlos last week was that of an Indian woman who had been buried there apparently ten years or more ago, according to a report given by Dr. A. Clattenburg at the inquest over the remains conducted by Dr. J. C. McGovern, coroner, at the parlors of Layng & Tinney yesterday. The woman was not more than 50 years of age, the report stated.

The skeleton was found by the workmen in a hole about three feet below the surface of the gorund. It is the belief that the woman was a member of an Indian tribe that was brought to San Carlos from northern California in 1923 to participate in the Peninsula Pageant of Progress held there in the spring of that year. Carl Stoner, manager of the Redwood Material Co., recalls seeing the Indians one day during the celebration staging a weird ceremony in the vicinity of the place where the body of the woman was unearthed last week. It is now the opinion that this ceremony was part of the funeral services for the squaw, who apparently had died from natural causes.

Other Inquests

Four other inquests were conducted by Coroner McGovern yesterday. In the cases of Marjorie Peterson, 7-year-old school girl, who died Wednesday from injuries received the day before when run down by an automobile on the Middlefield road, and Cecelia Hamilton, colored, fatally injured last week when struck by a machine at Five Points, verdicts of unavoidable accidents were brought in by the jury.

Jim Hing, whose body was found Sunday night at the west approach to the Dumbarton bridge, was found to be the victim of a hit-and-run driver, and Fred Danz, who was ton Oaks last Thursday, passed afound dead at his home in Dumbarway from a heart attack, the jury found.

THE EARLY BIRD GETS THE HONEY

GERBER, Cal., Feb. 3—(UP) — With the snow still on the ground, a hummingbird tried to rush the season, out at the home of Minor Carter, captain of the Tehama county traffic squad, the other day.

Noticing the bird buzzing around a window, Mrs. Carter put some syrup in a long perfume bottle and then put a wax flower in the bottle. These she put in a bush.

The bird hummed joyously, poked its bill deep into the flower, drank its fill and then darted to the window sill to do a spring dance. Nature followers here say the humming bird comes only in the flowering time and migrates with the season.

Hearing Set For Burlingame Zones

Final hearing on the proposal to rezone El Camino Real in Burlingame for commercial use will be held in the Burlingame city hall on February 14. This was the decision reached by the city council of Burlingame at its meeting Monday evening when the councilmen heard pleas of members of the El Camino Real Progress Association in favor of the proposal. The Burlingame planning commission recently made a study of the situation and recommended to the city council that the petition be denied and that the highway frontage through Burlingame be maintained as a residential section.

San Carlos Bank Robbers Sought

Check of Loot Shows Shortage of More Than $3000

Sheriff's offices throughout the state and police departments about the bay were busy since Tuesday looking up persons resembling in appearance the descriptions furnished of the two bandits who held up the San Carlos branch of the Bank of America of California. Fairly good descriptions were obtained of both men, both from the teller of the bank and from passers-by who noticed the two men in a car in front of the bank just before the hold-up was made.

The two men were noticed by John Cowgill, San Carlos realtor, as he was going home at noon. He noticed that the men watched him closely until he entered his home near the bank.

A check-up of the funds of the bank showed yesterday that the amount taken by the robbers was in excess of the first estimate. The cash was found to be about $4,000 short instead of $3,000 as at first reported.

Stanford and U. S. C. To Clash Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6—Fighting to remain on top of the southern division standings of the Pacific Coast Conference, University of Southern California's basketball team will go to Palo Alto this week-end to meet the Stanford University five in the third and deciding game of the Trojan-Card series.

If the S. C. men defeat Stanford Saturday, the worst they can get out of the league race at the end of the week is a tie for first with U. C. L. A., and the Bruins must take two straight from California to get this tie providing S. C. wins.

The Trojans plan to take 15 players to Stanford and will probably leave Los Angeles tonight.

WOODSIDE

No, little children, you are mistaken. Woodside is not to have a cable railway transportation system upon which you might hook rides to school these pleasant spring mornings. Those ancient cars that you saw coming over the hill into Woodside on Sunday morning are just going to be put out to pasture like Dobbin of the story books.

Martin Kreling of San Francisco bought two of the cars of happy memories from the defunct Pacific railway system and had them brought down to his home here where they will rest on a nice little level stretch of green lawn and serve as children's play-houses. Thus they will round out a long life of service in happy and peaceful retirement.

Mrs. Frances Marrapo left on Monday for a visit to New York. She will be gone for four weeks.

Mrs. Emma Andreen is spending the week with her daughter in San Francisco.

Rev. Benjamin St. John is in attendance this week upon the pastoral conference being held in Berkeley.

Harold Colvin and family recent-took possession of the house at the 'dobe corner and began to make improvements of the property. This week they removed to the Lawrence Steinhart place, where Mr. Colvin is employed as superintendent.

Louis German and family arrived in Woodside last Saturday. Mr. German is the newly engaged superintendent for the Mortimer Fleishacker place and will be remembered by many here from the time when he had charge of the William. Dimond place at Portola.

The Parent-Teacher Association celebrated Founders Day at their meeting on Thursday afternoon. The guest speakers were Mrs. F. Stauger of Burlingame, the district chairman; Mrs. L. G. Owens, Miss Victoria Roussell, and Mrs. J. E. Baughn. There was a large attendance of the association membership and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. George Givens, as chairman of the day, was in charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Gonzoulis moved to Berkeley from here on Thursday.

Mrs. George B. Somers and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Burbank Somers who have been traveling in Europe for several months, are reported in Paris, where they have just gone from St. Mortiz.

The Portola Social Club has advertised a Valentine Dance to be given at the Woodside Hall on Saturday night, the 15th inst.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

(Editorial)

"It isn't the thing itself—it's the spirit of the thing."

How often have we heard that expression, and how truly! We are reminded of that most famous picture "Spirit of '76." We see before us the indomitable spirit of courage, confidence, "We Will!"—which is the soul of the picture. There is no gleaming, splendid armor no large assembly of artillery! no highly developed scientific weapons of warfare—just the SPIRIT that could not know defeat.

The essence of Christianity is the spirit of Christ, and His simple, charitable teachings. The success of the expedition of Columbus and his discovery of our country can be justly attributed to the spirit of his mighty purpose in Joaquin Miller's "Sail On! Sail On! Sail On and On!"

The success of an influential church, the success of an active club or organization, the success of a progressive onward-moving community—all can be justly attributed to "THE SPIRIT OF THE THING."

Here in Redwood City we have (and yet need more) of that humane spirit of charity and simple love that prevails in a spirit of true Christianity; we need the indomitable "Sail On and On and On" spirit that marked the discovery of our country; we need the shining armor —the enduring strength of that spirit depicted in the "Spirit of '76" that could not know defeat; we need that splendid spirit of "community consciousness"—community kindness—community oneness to attain and hold our goal of the "One Community in Ten!"

Community Spirit— It isn't what we do individually or collectively in this community—it isn't how we do it—"it isn't the thing, it's the spirit of the thing."

Boy, Eight, Saves Companion, Five, From Bay Waters

John Hussar, South San Francisco boy, is a hero at eight years. To him goes the credit of saving the life of a playmate of five who fell into the bay. John and Bobbie Colchagoff were playing beside the bay when the latter fell into the water. The eight-year-old boy jumped on a raft which some boys had built and went to the rescue, but was unable to reach his five-year-old companion, so he abandoned the raft and jumped into the water.

Clutching the coat of his young companion the boy made for shore and dragged the five-year-old after him. Bobby emerged from the water little the worse for his ducking. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Demeter Colgagoff, of Toledo, Ohio, who are visiting at the home of John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rositza Hussar, South San Francisco.

Pioneer Dairyman Of County Dies

Following a heart attack Tuesday morning at his home on West Poplar evenue in San Mateo, Peter Morgensen, 50, president of the Spreckles Creamery, succumbed to the illness. He had been a leader in the dairy business of the Pacific coast for thirty-three years, and for the past six years had been president of the Spreckles concern.

Mogensen was born in Denmark and came to this country as a child. He was a member of the San Mateo Elks Lodge and a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Burlingame.

His widow, Leona, two sons, Elbert and Donald, and a brother, William of Fresno, survive him. Funeral services were held yesterday morning at a San Mateo funeral parlor. Rev. Harold Gardner, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Burlingame, officiated.

Mogensen same 10 years ago conducted the San Carlos Creamery in this city.

Mail Men Meet P. A. Exchange

The feaure game in the Business Men's Volleyball league played last evening at the high school gymnasium was the Kiwanians vs the Profs. In the first round these teams showed some very close competition with the Profs coming out on the long end of a score of 35 to 29.

Some of the teams which stood at the bottom of the list in the first round have been springing surprises and one can hardly go by the scores made at that time to judge the outcomes of the second round.

The other games played last evening were as follows:

Yomecans vs Lions.
Exchange vs All Stars.
Postoffice vs Engineers.
Titles vs Bank of Italy.

Realty President To Visit Redwood

Arrangements are being made to receive W. H. Daum, president of the California Real Estate Association, when he visits here on February 19. The Redwood City District Real Estate Board is planning a meeting at the Sequoia Hotel to which the Palo Alto and San Mateo-Burlingame real estate boards and the service clubs of Redwood City have been invited.

This visit of the realtor chief is of particular importance to Redwood City as Daum has made a specialty of industrial property, and considerable time will be spent in a discussion of the industrial possibilities of this section.

Redwood Man's Brother To Be Federal Judge

George Cosgrave, a brother of David Cosgrave, the widely known attorney of Redwood City, and Edward Cosgrave of Lomita Park, has been endorsed by the Republican County Committee of Fresno and the bar of that county for the appointment of United District Judge for the southern district of California, a post made vacant by the resignation of Edward J. Henning.

George Cosgrave has been a resident of Fresno for 34 years and has been an active member of the bar of that county and is the leading lawyer of that section of the state. The three brothers came from a family of pioneers of Calaveras county, the county made famous by Mark Twain's jumping frog.

News came from Washington to the effect that Senator Samuel M. Shortridge has endorsed Cosgrave's candidacy and the appointment is expected at any time.

The resolution adopted by the county committee is as follows:

"Living all of his native life in this community, George Cosgrave has been an able, active and industrious member of the bar of Fresno county and has always conducted himself in a manner reflecting credit upon the bar and the community in which he lived. His unfailing courtesy to courts, opposing attorneys and litigants, combined with his rugged honesty and well developed sense of justice have firmly fixed him in the esteem of this community, and his profound legal knowledge and unusual industry and sound common sense have rendered him an able and respected member of the legal profession.

"Carrying, as he would, these high attributes of industry, ability and integrity to the federal judiciary, we earnestly urge his appointment as a judge of the United States district court."

YOMECAN CLUB HEARS OF ORANGE INDUSTRY

Roscoe Stephens was the speaker at the Yomecan Club on Wednesday evening at the Sequoia Hotel. His talk was on the orange industry. In a very interesting way he told of the history of the orange and its introduction into this country. He also told of the preparation for marketing, and the great marketing association which the orange growers have set up.

As special recognition to the speaker who is the Kiwanis Club president, the Yomecans sang the "Hail, Kiwanis" song.

At an executive meeting following the regular meeting four applicants for membership were favorably acted upon. These are Edward Coleman, Harry Moore, Kenneth Barteaux and Hubert Barry.

The next meeting will be a joint one with the Exchange Club on Tuesday evening of next week.

A dance will be given tomorrow evening in the Odd Fellows Hall by Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge. Music for the evening wil be supplied by O'Connor's orchestra. The admission will be 50 cents for gentlemen and 25 cents for ladies.

S. F. Control Of Spring Valley Will Begin On 3rd of March

Many Problems Face Supervisors In Transfer

On March 3, the City and County of San Francisco will become the largest land-holder in San Mateo county. At that time the Spring Valley Water Company property in this county, as well as other holdings of the concern will be turned over to the municipal government. In the meantime San Francisco officials are busy trying to decide who shall have charge of the vast holdings.

Control of the expenditures for the operation and management of the Spring Valley water system will rest with the board of supervisors if the ordinance now being drawn by the joint finance and public utilities committees is accepted by the board.

Over the protests of President Tim Reardon of the Board of Public Works, the supervisors, acting under a decision of the State Supreme Court, have written into the ordinance now being framed, a provision which will compel the works board to submit its budget to the supervisors for their approval. By control of the budget for the Spring Valley system, the supervisors will also claim the right to fix salaries for the employes in the water utility.

Reardon and his colleagues on the Board of Public Works, declared at the joint meeting of the committees in City Attorney John J. O'Toole's office they would resist the move of the supervisors and would contend the question of control of San Francisco's municipal department budgets was not settled by the court decision upon which the supervisors are relying.

Under the provisions of the ordinance now being framed, the Board of Public Works will be compelled to make up a budget for the Municipal Water Department and then submit it to the entire board of supervisors for approval. A temporary budget will have to be submitted for the period from March 3 until the end of the present fiscal year.

The supervisors Tuesday decided the Municipal Water Department would pay into the bond interest fund of the Hetch Hetchy project an annual rental of $250,000 for the use of the aqueduct across the lower San Francisco bay, near Dumbarton cut-off. The Spring Valley Company is now paying this sum to the city for the use of the aqueduct.

The status of the 450 Spring Valley employes, who will be taken into the city's civil service system must also be settled among other questions by the San Francisco government. A large part of these employes are residents of this county.

One of the most important decisions to the people of this section in regard to the city's taking over this vast holding is what will be done about maintaining the game refuge which has always been maintained by the water company. Resolutions by the county supervisors of this county and by public organizations in all parts of the county, including the San Mateo County Fish and Game Club have urged upon the San Francisco supervisors the importance of maintaining this tract as a game refuge.

Crash Victim Sues San Mateo for $52,450

Charging he had been seriously injured in an automobile accident resulting from the negligence of the city of San Mateo in leaving a large tree projecting into El Camino Real in front of the San Mateo City Park, Lawrence A. von Tagen, 245 Corona street, San Francisco, this week filed claim with the San Mateo City council for $52,450 damages. The tree in question protruded two feet into the highway von Tagen asserts, and on November 27 last, he crashed his automobile into it.

Girl at the Top in Health Test

Millions of boys and girls all over the world, thousands of them right here in the West are being restored to health and strength by the purely vegetable tonic and laxative known as California Fig Syrup and endorsed by physicians for over 50 years.

Children need no urging to take it. They love its rich, fruity flavor. Nothing can compete with it as a gentle, but certain laxative, and it goes further than this. It gives tone and strength to the stomach and bowels so these organs continue to act normally, of their own accord. It stimulates the appetite, helps digestion.

A Kansas mother, Mrs. Dana Allgire, 610 Monroe St., Topeka, says: "Bonnie B. is absolutely the picture of health, now, with her ruddy cheeks, bright eyes and plump but graceful little body and she stands at the top in every health test.

Much of the credit for her perfect condition is due to California Fig Syrup. We have used it since babyhood to keep her bowels active during colds or any children's ailments and she has always had an easy time with them. She always responds to its gentle urging and is quickly back to normal."

Ask your druggist for California Fig Syrup and look for the word "California" on the carton so you'll always get the genuine.

No Wedding Bells

"So you gave him the air, eh?"

"Yes, his past was bad, his future looked worse, and the present he sent on my birthday looked as if he had bought it in the five-and-ten."

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

Completion of the first lap of the North Fork highway through the Feather River Canyon will take place in thirty working days according to contractors.

Water main extensions, costing approximately $2,500, were authorized by the Manteca City Council after plans for the work had been submitted by E. M. Leventon, water superintendent.

Under a contract recently negotiated with the Solano County Board of Supervisors, H. G. Butler, San Francisco electrical engineer, began work on the industrial survey in Solano County. The survey is a preliminary move to the establishment of the proposed port and shipping terminal on the Vallejo-Benicia waterfront.

The State Highway Commission has authorized condemnation proceedings for a highway that will replace the famous scenic ridge route, connecting Southern California with San Joaquin Valley. B. B. Meek, State director of public works, said bids will be called for at once. Bidding will be on the first section of the proposed route and will cost approximately $1,000,000. The entire project should be completed in three years.

Heavy snows throughout many sections of California have caused the Division of Fish and Game to issue word to all sportsmen of the State to report at once any cases of failure of food supply for game birds and animals to the nearest deputy Fish and Game Commisioner. Where deer, quail or other game birds or animals are facing starvation because the available food supply is covered with snow, the State conservation body stands ready and willing to contribute man power and finances for the purpose of taking care of the situation.

The Kaweah fish hatchery at Hammond, on the banks of the Kaweah River below Three Rivers, was again placed in operation early in January, when 300,000 eastern brook trout eggs were received from Kingston, Mass. Other shipments from various sources will arrive in the near future, according to Supt. Ed Clessen. This, he declares, marks beginning of the hatching season.

Increased expense of maintaining the isolated "little red schoolhouse," some of them having only two or three pupils, was a problem for California educators recently. Legislative enactment of a provision that schools must have at least ten pupils was proposed as a solution. Cost per pupil in many of the isolated rural schools has mounted to more than $500, and in the smallest school in the state, located at Thompson, Mendocino County, with an average daily attendance of only two pupils, the expense for the year was $1363. Records of Vierling Kersey, state educational chief, showed the biggest contrast in Los Angeles, where the smallest county school, located in Mint Canyon, boasted five pupils, as compared with the 148,552 enrolled in Los Angeles city schools. As contrasted with Oakland's average daily attendance of 30,348, there are two Alameda County rural schools with only six pupils each. The second smallest school in the state, located at Willow, El Dorado County, has only three pupils attending regularly, bringing the cost per pupil to more than $500. An average daily attendance of four students is reported at the little Salt Spring Valley school, Calaveras County, at a cost rate of $400 per pupil.

Transport planes, between San Francisco-Oakland and Chicago fly 317 miles less than the train mileage and 451 miles less than the transcontinental highway distance, show figures compiled by Boeing System, operators of the air mail over this course. Mileages are: Automobile 2394; Rail 2260; Air 1943. Air mail cuts 301 miles off the rail distance between Los Angeles and Seattle, making the flight in twelve hours elapsed time against train time of forty hours. Comparative mileages are: Rail 1400; Automobile 1274; Air 1099.

Four rural fire trucks, recently authorized by the State Board of Forestry, and similar to four operated by the Forestry Department last year, will be built at once and put into service at the start of the forest fire season, May 1, it was announced at Sacramento by State Forester M. B. Pratt. The new fire fighting apparatus will be assigned to northern California districts. One will be for Santa Cruz and Santa Clara counties; one for Shasta, Siskiyou and Trinity counties; one for El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras and Tuolumne counties, and one for the north Butte County protection district. Each of the trucks, when put into service, will be under supervision of the district inspector. Last year the four outfits, stationed at Auburn, Ukiah, Bakersfield and Riverside, saved property estimated at $400,000.

The Fresno City Commission has voted to create a citizens' finance commission to act in advisory capacity with reference to expenditure of funds by the city. The commission will be composed of six members, who will serve without pay. Finance Commissioner William Glass will act as ex-officio chairman of the commission.

Found guilty of posessing deer meat out of season, J. L. Phelps of Dorris was ordered to pay a fine of $360 by Justice of the Peace Harrison Wilkins or spend 180 days in the county jail. Phelps chose the jail sentence.

Children's stomachs sour, and need an anti-acid. Keep their systems sweet with Phillips Milk of Magnesia!

When tongue or breath tells of acid condition—correct it with a spoonful of Phillips. Most men and women have been comforted by this universal sweetener—more mothers should invoke its aid for their children. It is a pleasant thing to take, yet neutralizes more acid than the harsher things too often employed for the purpose. No household should be without it.

Phillips is the genuine, prescriptional product physicians endorse for general use; the name is important. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered trade mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Community Spirit

Above its neighbors, on to outstanding success, rises ONE community in TEN!

What is it that takes this community on to success, while the others falter, or actually fall, by the wayside?

Not natural advantages, statistics prove, such as climate and location. For as far as climate and location go, many a potential city of a million souls slumbers peacefully in any one of a hundred small communities. Not happenstance, for history proves that very few, like little Topsy, have "jes' growed."

OUTSTANDING COMMUNITY SUCCESS is achieved by that intangible something called "COMMUNITY SPIRIT"—the urge to do; the spirit of "I WILL!"

In community success, individual effort counts for much; but CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT counts for more!

The prosperity and progress that we now have is the result of COMMUNITY SPIRIT. The progress that we may hope to achieve can only be attained through this same spirit; through the desire of every individual citizen for community success, and the effort and energy of every individual citizen directed toward that end. It will take COURAGE, ENERGY, VISION, ENTERPRISE, and PATRIOTIC SERVICE to take OUR community "over the top;" on to OUTSTANDING SUCCESS—to make it THE ONE IN TEN!

Esprit de corps! Morale! Community Spirit! Call it what you will; the result is COMMUNITY SUCCESS for

Thrift An Antidote For Crime

By S. W. STRAUS,
President American Society for Thrift

A man who has had wide experience in dealing with criminal practices of all types was recently quoted as saying that "one of the rarest specimens in the world is a criminal who is thrifty and I think 99% of the people who are thrifty never become entangled with criminal law."

This is indeed a timely observation when so much thought is being given to the subject of crime in America.

Opinions may differ as to the cause of the present widespread practice of crime and opinions likewise will differ as to the remedies. It is not the purpose of this article to set forth the assumption that thrift is a cure-all for this great social disease. There is, in fact, no single specific, but thrift surely is among the remedies that might be offered as helpful.

There may be many individual exceptions to the rule but in the vast majority of cases a man who really is thrifty does not indulge in criminal practices. By thrift we do not mean merely getting ahead financially; we mean the thrift of creditable personal progress and honest success. The average man of thrift has learned the lesson that rightful progress comes only through slow, steady accumulation of material resources, the sensible employment of time and energy and a constant effort at self improvement. Into such a plan of progress, criminal practices are not likely to intrude.

It also is to be remembered that many a criminal took his first downward step when driven to desperation through extravagant habits. Any jurist of experience will tell you that a considerable percentage of the criminal cases brought before him may be included in this classification.

It cannot be said that thrift is the only cure for crime. Yet, if every person in this country above the age of childhood were to become habitually thrifty it would seem a safe statement to make that under such conditions there would be far less crime in the United States than is the case today.

Fire and Parrots

It is difficult to think of a more horrible way to die than by fire.

It was once ponted out by ai great scholar that the progress of cvilization is made only over the dead bodies of pioneers. So, too, the progress in fire prevention and protection seems to await horrible fire catastrophes to arouse consciousness of the fire danger. In 1929 the red hand of fire snuffed out many lives.

In an editorial of January 17, 1930, the New York Herald Tribune pointed out that the public concern over the so-called parrot fever was quite out of proportion to the seriousness of the problem. Suppose a dozen people in the United States had really died of Psittacosis, or parrot fever there are at least twice as many deaths due to fire each day and only those actively working to prevent fire seem to worry about the appalling loss. Attention is directed to just eight recent fires that caused serious loss of life.
caused death of 120 persons in a hotel at
Fire in Russian motion picture theatre Amarillo, Texas, 5; n Cleveland Clinic, 124; in explosion and fire in Eastman Hospital, Canton, China, 80; in fire test at Gillingham, England, 15; in cabaret in Detroit, 11 men and 9 women were burned or trampled to death; in fire in paper box company, Baltimore, 4 women died; in New Year's Eve fire in motion picture theatre in Paisley, Scotland, 72 children were trampled or smothered to death.

In the United States, fire takes an annual toll of 10,000 lives and $500,000,000 in property losses, according to National Board of Fire Underwriters.

A large percentage of deaths from fire occur in homes. This is hard to understand in progressive America where so many fire preventions are within the reach of the average household. Homes can be made comparatvely safe against fire and the life hazard greatly reduced.

Unemployment Declines

A statement credited to the White House and based upon official figures from the Department of Labor says that the period of unemployment which dates from the collapse of the stock market in October and continued until Christmas in spite of the many efforts to stabilize industry, has passed. The President says that the condition of employment remained at a standstill for ten days, running beyond the New Year, but that since the beginning of the second week in January there has been a steady upward trend with every indication that it will continue.

Certainty of Punishment Best

Warden Lewis Lawes of Sing Sing Penitentiary, recently said that the famous New York Baumes Laws, which automatically give a criminal life-imprisonment on his 4th conviction for a felony, have failed to decrease crime.

According to Warden Lawes they have resulted in a sort of arbitration between the criminal and officials, as the latter have found it exceedingly difficult to obtain a conviction when the fourth crime is a minor one.

Many experts hold that severity of punishment and superfluous laws defeat their own ends, whereas certainty of punishment is feared by the criminal.

We do not need more laws, uncontaminated by politics.

Crime legislators should turn their attention to providing methods of apprehending and punishing criminals instead of passing volumes of new laws which continually restrict the rights of the law-abiding citizen, thereby making more "technical lawbreakers."

Profits or Food

The weight of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was added to the protests of the Southwest against restriction of Western Hemisphere immigration in testimony before the House Immigration Committee, an Associated Press dspatch reported recently.

It is most likely that the deciding factor to the Chamber of Commerce in considering this question was its effects upon the financial interests of the large growers in states adjoining the Mexican border, who each year, employ a great amount of Mexican labor. It is probably true that Mexican labor can be obtained at cheaper wages than it would be possible for the average American worker to live on. Thus, it can hardly be denied that a large influx of Mexicans each year adds to the profits of the producers in that particular section.

But should not a broader vision be adopted in deciding questions that affect the Nation at large? What about the problem of unemployment that yearly grows more menacing? Is it justice; is it fair or advisable, for a possible gain of profits to citizens of one locality to overshadow the needs and actual necessities of hundreds of thousands of American citzens who are unable to obtain employment?

The restriction of immigration means a decrease in profits for a few but does it mean work, food, shelter and clothing for many? Which shall be heeded, the cry of the few hundreds for greater profits, or the plea of the hundreds or thousands starving unemployed for work and food?

Washington's Good Name

It is an elementary principle that in every phose of life there are constructive and destructive forces. One builds, the other destroys, and there is a constant war waged between the two. The destructive forces are rightly regarded as pernicious to human welfare and man ever seeks to eliminate them. Yet they contnue to exist, seeming able to always find some weak spot to attack.

Men in public life are frequently choice subjects. No matter how vrtuous, honorable or blameless; no matter the heights attained in public opinion, they must guard constantly against the destructive forces—composed as a rule of those who rejoice in relating creations of the imagination as facts, who delight in whispering scandal, who are quick to twist the truth. Even the dead are not safe. When they are no longer here to defend themselves, the reputation they have made is attacked.

As an example take George Washington, who devoted his life to laying the foundation upon which today stands the world's foremost nation, and whose birth anniversary will be celebrated this month. One can hear constantly repeated stories that are directed against the morals and character of this great American. In these stories, the intent of which is, apparently, to destroy the ideals that surround the memory of the beloved patriot, small incidents are magnified and they have not the slightest basis of truth. made to appear in a different light, and often

To combat the insidious results which may be caused by the efforts of the destructive forces in this respect and to keep unsullied the memory of that great man, the Washington Society of Alexandria, Va., has traced the origin of many of these whispered stories and has published facts to prove to the most credulous that these scandals are utterly false.

The Life Saving Campaign

Accident prevention is not something that can be applied from without. It is within the personal jurisdiction of every citizen.

During the past decade the accident record in industry has been greatly decreased. Part of this is due, of course, to mechanical safeguards. But the greater part of the credit must go to the fact that industrial executives, through education and example, have given workers a knowledge of the accident problem that makes them avoid and remove hazards.

We would have practically no automobile accidents if all drivers were competent, careful and law-abiding. It is the reckless or careless driver who is responsible for the 21,000 deaths caused annually by automobiles in this country.

At the present time the progressive schools of the nation are adopting accident prevention courses as part of their curricula. A sense of personal responsibility for accidents is instilled into the child to develop the "life saving" instinct.

Adult Americans should benefit from the safety training the schools give their children and understand that accident prevention is more a personal than a legislative accomplishment.

President Hoover To Dine On Menlo Park Turkens

Fowls Shipped From Here to Wilbur Dinner

President and Mrs. Herbert Hoover will be the guests of Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Wilbur at a dinner at Washington, D. C., Monday, February 17, at which the principal course on the menu will be turkens from the turken farm of George P. Schaefer of Menlo Park.

When Herbert Hoover was at Stanford in 1928 to make his famous acceptance address, he and Mrs. Hoover were given a dinner at which this wonderful Russian fowl, which is a cross between a turkey pheasant and a chicken, was served. The deliciousness of the fowl and the fact that it came from the immediate vicinity of the Hoover home made a great impression on both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and they both expressed the hope that they could enjoy such a dinner again in the east.

When Mrs. Wilbur was planning her turken dinner for the 17th the question of shipping the fowls the 3000 miles across the continent naturally was an important problem. Mrs. Wilbur conferred with the Southern Pacific Co., and a result 7 turkens will leave Menlo at noon next Tuesday, will be taken to San Francisco and there placed in a special refrigeration car, which will leave for the east at 9 o'clock Tuesday night. Five days later or to be exact at 11 o'clock Sunday night the turkens will arrive in Washington in plenty of time for the dinner for President and Mrs. Hoover the following day.

Schaefer has had his farm on the Alameda de las Pulgas in Menlo Park for the past seven years. He has invested over $25,000 in the industry and has shipped his highly-bred stock to 49 different countries and states, one year alone the shipments of breding and hatching stock amounted to $4200. At the present time, however, Schaefer is confining his energies to raising the fowls for the market, the Peninsula Meat Co. of San Mateo having contracted for last year and this year's entire supply.

Until 1915 this wonderful Russian fowl had not been bred outside of the Czar's own pheasantry, and not until the unheaval of war in that stricken country turned things "topsy-turvy" were these highly prized birds allowed to breed and multiply outside of the Czar's own immediate domestic domain. To be found in possession of one of these birds meant a prison sentence for the poacher—and in earlier days a trip to the Siberian mines.

At the time of the Czar's downfall one of the royal game keepers secured a trio of these imperial birds and brought them to San Francisco from Vladivostock in 1916.

The game keeper, besieged by an army of bidders, sold the trio of aristocratic birds for a handsome sum, and Mr. George Schaefer, a breder of Menlo Park, was the fortunate buyer.

The royal birds were scientifically bred the following years and crossed with prize stock American birds with strong blood lines and the offspring offered to the poultry world in the form of a larger bird, more hardy, a better layer and a most wonderful table fowl.

The original bird is known in Russia as the "Halo Sacredo," a game pheasant fowl supposed to have turkey ancestry on account of the meat having a flavor of turkey. This game bird was bred in the Orloff family imperial pheasantry from whence it derives the name of the Russian Orloff bird. The fowl was a wild game bird originally and its descendants still show some of its wild nature.

NEW YORK TELEPHONES HAVE RECORD MOVING DAY

During the last fall moving period in New York City, which centered around October 1, an average of over 5,000 telephones a day were moved, the total number of such changes between September 23 and October 5 being more than 67,000. This is the largest total of changes ever recorded in the city's annual moving time. In the two weeks' period which marks the peak of this move, 30,561 telephones were removed or installed in the Borough of Manhattan. Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island showed a large turnover with 27,294 telephones removed and installed, while in the Bronx the annual moving period accounted for 9,335 such changes.

Two tableaus and eight short scenes will be presented by Die Kameraden, second year German students, in The Little Theatre in the near future. A small audience will witness the play, and if it is favorably received, it will be given during an assembly period, according to Miss Juliane Wolters, club advistr.

According to Jack Morgan, commissioner of welfare, the commissioners' dance, to be held March 15, will probably be carried out in a St. Patrick's style.

For every English word spoken during the class period, the third year German students will have to pay one cent. Sitting with the legs of a chair off the floor will cost a students five cents. The money so collected will be put into a general fund, and just before Miss Juliane Wolters, the third year German teacher, goes to Europe sometime in May, the entire class will go to San Francisco for a dinner and farewell party.

San Mateo was defeated again in a pair of close practice games Wednesday, January 29. The 130's won by an 18 to 17 score, while the Unlimiteds were victorious with a 21 to 17 victory.

"New baseball bleachers will not be built immediately to replace those that burned down," stated Mr. A. C. Argo, but a backstop will be constructed very soon. The backstop will be constructed where the bleachers were.

Contractors looked the field over last week and will submit bids in the near future.

Under the direction of Coaches Leonard Casanova and Frank Griffin, baseball started Monday when aspirants for the 110's 130's and unlimited reported for their first practice.

The advanced dancing classes presented a recital at the Stanford Clubhouse Friday evening. The performance was given for the Stanford Dames. About 125 people attended.

All the dances which were presented at the recital were given in the high school auditorium except the dance of the intermediate class. The reason for this omission was because of the similarity to one of the other dances.

Fortune tellers clowns, fat ladies, and freaks of all sorts will be seen at the Sequoia Girls' Sirkuss to be given by the S. G. S. Saturday night in the girls' gymnasium. Plans are being made by Miss Burns, dean of girls; Nancy Holmquist, president of the S. G. S., and the five club leaders.

Stunts will be put on by the Tumbling club, new girls, and the clubs. Tap dancing and Wild West shows will probably be seen. Sideshows will also be put on.

An admission charge of 25 cents will be charged. This will cover all side-shows and stunts. Booths selling pop, ice-cream, candy, squawkers, and balloons are to be decorated by the carious committees from the clubs.

LIGHT JUBILEE RECALLS BIRTH OF TELEPHONE

Many Points in Career of Edison Parallel Those in Life of Alexander Graham Bell

The recent celebration of the fiftieth aniversary of the jubilee of the incandescent lamp recalls the fact that two of the most important inventions which have had a far-reaching effect on mankind, the telephone and the electric light, came into existence at about the same time. For when Alexander Graham Bell was struggling with his invention of the telephone, Thomas Alva Edison was wrestling with the idea which brought forth the incandescent lamp.

The early careers of both men are somewhat parallel in that both were young men when they conceived the ideas which were to make them each famous, and that both were laughed at and ridiculed when they tried to interest the public in what they had done.

Unlike many inventors, both Bell and Edison lived to see the child of their dreams accepted by the world and become one of its most domineering factors. Bell didn't live to take part in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the telephone in 1926, having died in 1922, but he did live to see the range of transmission increase from two miles in 1876, until, in 1915, he took part in the operating of the first transcontinental line. Successful tests of two-way transmission across the Atlantic were also made during his lifetime, and even in the early days of telephony, when most people were making fun of it as simply a child's toy, he had the vision to foresee the day when the telephone would virtually make a neighborhood of the entire world.

Father Kennedy Willed $25,000 In S. F. Estate

Rev. Father C. E. Kennedy, former pastor of Mt. Carmel Church in this city and now in charge of St. Paul's Church in San Francisco, was named as one of the beneficiaries in the will of Mrs. Leonide G. Auzerais, San Francisco woman, who passed away last week. Father Kennedy was given $25,000 of the $300,000 estate, the balance going to other friends and distant relatives. The will, dated May 24, 1929, was filed for probate Monday.

Mrs. Auzerais, whose home was at 2209 Pacific avenue, San Francisco, was the widow of Edward J. Auzerais, formerly of San Jose and a member of a well-known Santa Clara family.

SEQUOIA-BURLINGAME BASKETBALL TONIGHT

By Andy Bright

When the local basketball teams meet Burlingame at the home gym tonight the Sequoia fans should have an opportunity to see a couple of fast games.

On first meeting the Burlingame squad the Indian 130's were victorious by a score of 22 to 6. By these figures it is easy to see that Captains Dudley Dillard's men are most likely to chalk up another victory.

The varsity contest, however, is a different matter. The Burlingame heavies came out ahead in the previous contest with the Cherokees, 25 to 14, although the Indians out played them in the last half. As the Sequoia men are out of the league running as far as the championship is concerned, the locals will probably go into the game with only slight worry about fouls. A rough contest like their previous meeting is expected, and according to Coach Griffin the varsity game should probably be close.

The game starts at 7:45 and the Sequoia gym will doubtless be packed.

Tentative line ups are:

130's		Varsity
Britschgi	F.	Lutje
Dillard	F.	Leroy
McCarthy	C.	Sepulveda
Shine	G.	De Lacy
West	G.	Stilleson

Five Fast Games In Volleyball Card

Coming from behind in the last three minutes of play Wednesday, the Post Office volleyball team nosed out the Exchange Club of Palo Alto 27 to 22.

Off to a flying start the Exchange soon had a 12 to 3 lead and it looked like the curtains for Redwood, but settling down to business the P. O. managed to hold their own and add a few points at Paly's expense until the score was 15 to 15. From then on the game was as close as a game of volleyball could be with the Exchange always making a point or two and the P. O. coming up to tie the score. Not until the last three minutes did Redwood sneak ahead and when they did it was to win the old ball game.

Both teams used the three pass play with some player killing the ball on the third pass. The players making tht trip for Redwood were Sahlberg, Downs, Alexander, DeBenedetti, Blake and Marzoik.

A suit was filed in the superior court here Wednesday as the result of an automobile accident which occured on the Skyline road, just south of Colma on August 25. The suit was filed by Charles Cogburn of San Francisco, against Arthur Edward Steele. The sum of $78,139 is asked as damages, the plaintiff charging that he had been permanently disfigured as the result of the crash.

Journalism Class of High School to Attend Convention

By Louise Bendeich

Sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, the fourth annual high school journalism convention will be held at the University of California, March 20 to March 22. This year is the first time that a three-day convention is being held. Don S. Norton, last semester's editor of Californian, has been appointed general chairman.

The purpose of the convention is to foster the education of high school journalists and to give them an opportunity to become intimately acquainted with the workings of a college daily.

Luncheons, banquets, and round table discussions will make up the program.

Miss Eunice Schmidt, adviser of the Sequoia Times, has been appointed faculty chairman of the program committee and will arrange for all round tables, suggesting speakers and the general proceedure.

"We hope to have trained newspaper men or faculty advisers rather than college students conduct these metings," she stated.

Local representatives have not yet been decided upon.

DANGER IN EATING UNDERCOOKED PORK

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6—(UP) — If you must eat pork, be sure it's well cooked, warns the California Department of Public Health.

Since Christmas there have been 25 cases of trichinosis in this state, caused by eating pork not thoroughly cooked.

The trichinosis death rate is high among foreign-born persons who eat raw ham and raw sausage, it was stated. Care should be taken that the meat be cooked until it is thoroughly white, with no signs of red meat, the health authorities advised.

Final Rites Held For Glider Victim

The ashes of Lietenant Norman A. Goddard, founder of the Palo Alto School of Aviation, were consiged to the waters of the Pacific yesterday from the U. S. S. Maryland. Lieutenant Goddard, a member of the United States Naval Reserve Force, was killed in a glider crash at Alameda on January 26. The school at Palo Alto is being continued by Goddard's widow, Mrs. Phyllis M. Goddard, also a licensed pilot.

Bond Grafting Hit by Report Of Taxpayers

Home Owners Robbed On Delinquent Assessments

By ELWOOD SQUIRES

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4 —(UP) — Modern Shylocks, in the person of unscrupulous bondsmen and attorneys, are conducting a profitable business at the expense of California home owners who have special assessments of which they are unaware, levied on their property.

The California Taxpayers Association has recently presented the joint state legislative committee, surveying the field of street improvement laws, with an exhaustive research into activities of "sharks" operating against home owners.

Meantime the committee, appointed by the last legislature, has been delving into the subject on its own accord.

Startling conditions are found to be existent by both the committee and investigators for the Taxpayers Association. Quoting from the Association report:

"Annually a considerable number of special assessment delinquencies are taken into the courst for judgment and dismissal. On each special assessment that is delinquent and brought into court, additional money must be paid by the owner of the property for attorney's and other fees.

"This money goes to the bond houses and to the attorneys who make a speciality of buying up delinquent special assessment bonds.

Members of the legislative committee explained that most improvement work is paid for by giving the contractors "assessment bonds," which constitute a lien against property in the district where work is done. Questionable bondhouses watch for bonds which have delinquent assessments, purchase these bonds, and then demand settlement from the delinquent property owner.

Before the unfortunate owner is able to pay off his delinquent assessment he must pay other charges, such as exorbitant attorneys' fees, title search, fees, filing fees, service fees, etc., all of which go into the pockets of the attorneys and the bond houses.

There is one way to avoid getting into the cluthces of these "sharks," described by the Association report as follows:

"Much could be done to stop these Shylocks who would foreclose upon the taxpayer's property and bleed him of his last cent in order to collect their unjust charges, if every property owner would make sure that his name and address is registered with the city clerk's office. If his name is there he will be notified as to any special city assessments that may be levied against his property and does not run the risk of having his assessment declared delinquent before he ever hears of it."

FREIBURG ESTATE FILED

Mrs. Eva Samuelson has applied in the superior court of this county for letters of administration in the estate of her mother, Mrs. Dora A. Freiburg, who died in Menlo Park on January 28. The petitioner, who resides in Modesto, is said to be the sole heir to the estate, which is valued at about $3500.

Railroads To Cut Transcontinental Fare 25 Per Cent

In an effort to attract early tourist traffic to the Pacific Coast, three transcontinental railroads this week announced a new low rate on west bound passenger fares effective during March.

The Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Western Pacific will jointly offer a low one-way fare of approximately 75 per cent of the regular one-way fare from all points as far east as Indianapolis, Ind., to destinations in the Pacific Coast states. The fare will be good for continuous passage on day coaches and permits passengers to check 100 pounds of baggage. Fare for children will be one-half the reduced rate. Tickets will be on sale at all main line terminal stations during the entire month of March.

Lions Club To Hold Bridge Party Tonight

The wives of the members of the Redwood City Lions Club will have charge of a card party to be given for members and their friends at the Emerald Lake Golf Club this evening. This marks the initial social affair to be given by this group this year and a large attendance is expected.

Mrs. J. Milton Johnson, Mrs. Fred Dutweiller, Mrs. W. B. Curran and Mrs. Percy Long will be in charge of the arrangements.

The admission will be 50 cents, which will include refreshments.

Politically Speaking

By HOMER L. ROBERTS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3 — (UP) — Now that Friend W. Richardson is back in California and continues to say nothing anent the candidacy of District Attorney Buron R. Fitts for governor, the two questions uppermost in the minds of political observers are:

1. Has Richardson broken with Fitts, and will Richardson become a candidate for governor himself?

2. What is Mayor James Rolph going to do?

When Richardson arrived in Los Angeles from his recent Mexican trip, he was told that Fitts had announced himself as a candildate. The former governor's only comment was: "I thought he would."

"The campaign," he added, "is still in its early stages. Seven months remain in which to reach a decision. No one formally can become a candidate until June, anyway."

A number of Richardson supporters still are urging him to run for governor anyway. Others think that he and Fitts have formed a coalition whereby Fitts, if elected, would throw his support to Richardson as a candidate for United States senator against Senator Samuel M. Shortridge in 1932.

Another story going the rounds is that Richardson is grooming his friend, David Reese of Ventura, former president of the Civil Service Commission, as a candidate for congress against Arthur Monroe Free of San Jose, who is up for re-election this year.

This would stir up quite a rumpus in the counties of Monterey, San Benito, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and Venture, the eight counties comprising the eighth congressional district, now represented by Free.

The 3-cent gasoline tax returned $37,224,534.96 to California in 1929, the state board of equalization, which administers the tax, reported. Every cent of this amount goes for building new roads for the state. Known as the "ideal tax," the levy allows the government to "pay as you go" in building new highways, without adding to the bonded indebtedness or general property taxes. Last year's total exceeded 1928 by $4,512,860.55, a gain of nearly 14 per cent.

Colored Ice Is Latest Stunt At College Dances

Ballrooms cooled and brightened with huge colored ice cakes are becoming the vogue at smart dances this winter, according to Robert McKnight, manager of merchandising National Association of Ice Industries.

"College boys, getting their summer workouts for fall football by delivering ice, originated the idea, which has been received wth enthusasm by dance spossors of all ages," Mr. Mc Knight states. "The color is frozen into the ice at the plant and the ice cakes, weighing from 300 to 400 pounds, are delivered to the dance floors, ready for display.

"Pleasing effects are obtained by using fraternity, sorority, school or college colors, suiting the color scheme of the ball. The ice is placed on the dance floors in tubs or specially constructed pans to catch the meltage. The containers usually are decorated also.

"Sometimes bouquets of flowers are frozen into the crystal-clear ice cake at the factory and colored lights are thrown upon the ice to make it glitter and sparkle. Electric fans, playing upon the ice, asbusiness in this 'ice candy,' selling assorted flavors for as little as one cent a cube. Children wait in line to get them."

"Increasing popularity, too, not only for dances and other social gatherings, but for everyday as well, are the flavored ice cubes—'ice candy,' if you will. Any desired flavoring may be had—pineapple, strawberry, orange, lemon, respberry, etc.—all frozen into hard, clear cubes at the ice plant and delivered in attractive cartons of convenient size. Sometimes crushed fruit is frozen into the cubes, enhancng their popularity.

GARDENERS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Peninsula Gardeners' Association elected officers to serve for the ensuing term at a regular session held last week in the Sons of St. George Hall on San Mateo Drive, San Mateo.

Louis Weber, the out-going president, installed the new group of officers, as follows:

P. H. Graves, president; Andrew McDonald, vice-president; F. Sousa, recording secretary; J. Festica, financial secretary; and A. F. Ludemann, treasurer. H. T. Hawk and J. Newton are the ushers, and the trustees are Louis Weber for a term of three years; J. J. Beerli, for a term of two years, and H. Reischman for one year.

Those elected on the committee of exhibitions include Louis Smans, manager; Bernard J. McCarron, treasurer; P. H. Graves, Andrew McDonald, Cyril N. Warren and Louis Weber, directors.

It was suggested that gardeners and their families hold a picnic in the near future at Memorial Park. The association has issued an invitation to those gardeners who have not joined the association to be guests at the next meeting to be held on the fourth Monday of February in the Sons of St. George Hall, 849 San Mateo Drive, San Mateo.

City Council Holds Special Session Tuesday Evening

The city council held a special meeting Tuesday evening to hear the report and complaint of the building inspector in regard to the Gurnsey building being erected on Middle avenue, and which is to be occupied by negroes. The inspector reported that the building was not being erected according to the building laws adopted by the council, that the concrete foundation was laid only six inches below the surface, when it should be twelve inches. Gurnsey, who was present, maintained that he was doing the work correctly and actually defied the council. After considerable discussion pro and con all work on the structure was halted and the builder directed to appear before the council at its next meeting and show cause why his permit should not be revoked. The city attorney was authorized to use all legal precaution to protect the interests of the council in the matter. The motion stopping the work was carried by Walker, Blake and Ellis; Weeden and Dale voting no.

The parlor has adopted suitable resolutions endorsing Young Shortridge for the place. His election is assured.

Mother Mary Foley Will Celebrate Her Silver Jubilee

Mother Mary Foley on tomorrow will celebrate her silver jubilee, having taken her vows in the Sacred Heart Academy of Albany, New York, February 8, 1905. For twenty-one years she has been principal of St. Joseph's Parochial School, devoting her splendid talents and energies to teaching the youht of this community. Mother Foley is admired and loved, not only by her pupils and former students but by all who know her. Her devotion, her faith and loyalty in her calling in training the young and directing them in the proper path on life's highway have won for her a high place in the estimation of every one. Tomorrow will be a day of joy and happiness for Mother Foley. From many quarters will come beautiful tributes of love from her former pupils, her friends and admirerers who are aware of her woth and devotion She has consecated her life to helping others and making life's burdens easier for those whose loads are heavy. Her interest in her pupils does not cease when they graduate. The affection for her scholars gained in the class rooms always remains. She never forgets them. Words of encouragement and advice follow them to other avenues. The highest tribute that may be paid to the good sister is the self sacrifice she makes and is making in the upbuilding of character for the youth of Menlo Park and vicinity. All congratulate Mother Foley on her happy silver jubilee and wish her many years of happiness in her noble work.

New Uniforms For National Guards

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3— (UP) — New uniforms, with the spiffy roll collar now standard for the regular army, and "Pershing caps," are soon to be supplied to every enlisted man in the California National Guard.

The uniforms were shipped from Philadelphia by Army Transport about January 1, and probably will be available here March 1, according to Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt, commander.

The new uniforms are to be used only for parades, inspections and dress occasions, and not in the field or for armory drill.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1929-30 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1929, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 17

One of the points emphasized in previous articles was the importance of "End Plays". An end play is possible only near the end of any particular hand when all but a few of the thirteen cards have been played. The play of the first seven or more cards usually should enable an alert player to figure out the location of the remaining cards in the other players' hands. Very frequently such knowledge will enable a player to gain a trick or more; and the methods of doing so are the so-called "End Plays".

Here are four that appeared in a recent book on Auction, and each one illustrates a principle of play that should be thoroughly understood by all players. Think over the plays and compare your solutions with the analyses that will be given in the next article.

25 YEARS AGO

Times-Gazette, February 4, 1905

Mrs. Berthold Werder has been spending the past week with relatives here.

A number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. M. S. Cooper Thursday afternoon and formed a ladies euchre club. They will meet twice a month on Thursday afternoons, and will contest for a prize at each meeting.

Miss Dorothy Kimball, assisted by her pupils will give a musicale in Odd Fellows hall on Friday evening. Over 100 invitations have been issued. The pupils who will take part are as follows: Sophie Mengels, Iva Moore, Gertrude Moore, I Beer, Norma Jacobus, Henry Mengels, Minnard Granger, Joseph Ross.

Henry Marcus has bought the bankrupt stock of the Crocker store in the Livingston building, and will sell it out regardless of cost. He will then put in a first-class line of drygoods and gents' furnishings, and endeavor to build up a good business. Mr. Marcus has brought his family to Redwood City and will be assisted in the store by his wife.

Miss Grace Barrett has been appointed by the San Francisco chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy to organize a branch at Stanford University. To become a member the applicant must have had a relative in the Confederate army.

Mrs. Beeger gave a surprise dinner party Wednesday at her home in honor of Mrs. S. M. Murch's birthday. Many of the friends of Mrs. Murch were invited, and a specially pleasant time was enjoyed by all present.

Robert Brown will shortly commence the erection of a cottage on his property on Stambaugh street. It will be a two-story building containing seven rooms with all modern improvements.

The largest shipment of hides ever made by the Frank Tannery was made last week when 10,000 sides of sole leather were shipped to Japan. Besides this large shipment, another large order was shipped a short time ago.

Mayor Rolph still looks good as a candidate for governor on a platform of modifying the prohibition law, his friends declare.

"Sunny Jim's" recent statement that he would run "if I find shortly encouragement and support from my friends and fellow-Californians," was taken by many as tantamount to definite commitment. In Sacramento, however, it was considered as notice to his supporters not to commit themselves until he has made up his mind.

If Rolph enters the race, the campaign will be a hot one, win or lose. Twelve years ago he won the Democratic nomination, but couldn't run for governor because he failed to get the nomination of the Republican party, with which he was registered.

Minnesota Penitentiary Extolled

St. Paul, Minn.—The Stillwater prison plant is characterized as the best of its kind in the country by the third issue of the Handbook of American Prisons and Reformatories, now being published by the National Society of Penal Information.

The handbook also commends the prison industrial organizations, but points out the need of a more progressive policy in the matter of discipline and in the development of an educational program.

The article says in part:

"This (the prison) is a notable institution in two important respects: Its plant is the best of its kind in the country and its industrial system one of the most effective. The plant, carefully built as one construction job, gives this institution a physical equipment that is probably unsurpassed in the country.

"Industrially the institution has an enviable record. Its shops are modern in design and construction, well lighted and ventilated. The working conditions throughout are excellent.

"The progress made in humanizing the institution and developing individual instead of mass treatment has not been nearly as rapid as the progress in institutional and industrial development. In fact, the great plant and huge industry tend to dwarf the individual and unavoidably make him see that he is merely a cog in a machine and an unimportant unit in a great institution.

"This inescapable problem is common to every great institution, but it is intensified here by the retention of the silence system, by a monotony of routine and by a regimentation of life, both in the cells and out, which has been abandoned in many prisons of the country. The silence system, for instance, has been given up for several decades in many states.

"The state is fortunate in having a plant admirable in so many respects and an industrial system that has covered the cost of running the institution every year since 1902. But the accomplishments in these important fields make the case stronger for a more progressive policy in the realm of discipline, the development of education and other constructive features that have proved their value in institutional life, and a prison regime which makes every possible effort to treat the inmates as individual human beings rather than as a mass."

Commenting on the board of control, the handbook says:

"There appears to be a tradition that members of the board who have served effectively shall be reappointed. The result is a continuity in membership and a corresponding lack of appointments for political reasons such as are made in neighboring states."

Father Sage Says:

The girl of yesterday was proud if she had small hands; the girl of today is more interested in having competent ones.

Not Legal Punishment

The practice of tarring and feathering, as a punishment, is as old as the Crusades. The earliest mention of the punishment occurs in the orders of Richard Coeur de Lion, issued to his navy on starting for the Holy land in 1191. Historians think it probable that this punishment was never regarded as legalized, but was always a type of mob violence.

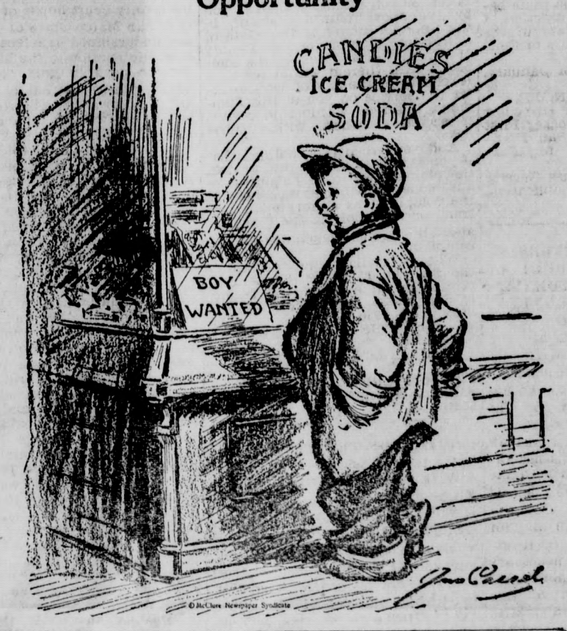
Matthew, director of the University of California Museum of Paleontology. The new addition to the museum was received from Dr. Charles L. Baker, geologist for the Rio Bravo Oil company, now working in Texas.

Opportunity



Chinese Soldiers Driven to Banditry

An alarming increase in banditry in at least 10 of China's 18 provinces is indicated in reports received by foreign legations here from their consuls.

This state of affairs is attributed chiefly to the persistence of civil war.

The consular reports state that most of the bandits are not professionals, but men and women who have been driven to prey upon their neighbors because of desperate need of food.

In some of the cases reported whole villages banded together to make raids upon neighboring villages to obtain food supplies. Such instances were reported from Szechwan, Hupeh, Kansu, Anwei and Fukian provinces.

In several provinces—notably Honan, Shantung and Kwang-si—consular reports indicate that former soldiers grouped into well organized bandit gangs have looted towns and villages and kidnaped persons even of moderate means for ransom. Several army commanders have not paid their troops for months, even years, and eventually the soldiers desert to become robbers.

North Manchuria has been a chief sufferer from the recent spread of banditry. During recent years, with comparative peace and order, this section has prospered, and this government had succeeded in suppressing the Mongol, Chinese and White Russian robbers who infested the area.

But the dispute with Soviet Russia has preoccupied the government troops, with the result that the bandits have become more active than ever. The 2,000 mile border between Siberia and Manchuria is out of reach of the Chinese troops, and affords easy prey for the robber bands.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Lung Capacity

In spite of every effort to expel all air from the lungs, there remains always about 100 cubic inches. An additional 30 inches or so enters the lung with each breath under normal conditions. However, with exertion, 100 cubic inches may enter. The average daily "intake" is 690,000 cubic inches.

Analyzing ...YOU...

With the New Science of Syllabics

By C. J. COFFMAN

Dean of All the Enumerators

Betty

If puns were allowable, we might say we could bet on Betty. At any rate, you seem always to be there when anything is going on.

Betty's Cute Little Nose.

And this, too, is because you are not only invited, but your presence is demanded. Popularity should be your strong point, as it certainly is natural to you.

This popularity can be enhanced through the expressiveness of your eyes or your cute little nose. You are one of those persons who can get more expression in the wrinkling of your nose, than lots of people can get in their whole face.

Among the old fellows who used to boss Egypt, the word ET meant timber or tree. I mention this merely to indicate how solid and dependable you really are under the surface.

Sometimes people enjoy your company so much, with your light-hearted gaiety, that they might not give you credit for the stability which is really yours. Indeed, you may be unaware of it yourself, until some great issue brings it out.

The two Betty's of motion pictures, Betty Compson and Betty Blythe, both illustrate what I mean. They seem to take life happily, lightly, and yet have the stability that must be back of every person who accomplishes the big things of life.

So play your piano, read your novels, but hold yourself in readiness for the one big chance, your real business in life.

By basing your career on the dramatic, or possibly the literary, I feel sure you will make no mistake.

• • •

Blanche

"White was her skin and fair to look upon," must have meant you, Blanche. An ancient meaning of your name signifies white, as does the more modern Spanish "blanco."

Graceful Shoulders of Blanche.

But I like to think of you in the meaning of an old word made from the latter part of your name, CHE, that would indicate an army of dream, or the dream army. You certainly do give the impression of an army, when you put forth the strength of your dignity.

Tall and graceful, with beautifully molded shoulders, almost soldierly in aspect and carriage, you will find that dignity is your strongest asset.

Some of the ancient syllables formed of the letters in your name indicate the word hand. When you do choose to help anyone, you can do so with a mighty hand.

Access to important people, by way of your dignity, ought to be quite feasible to you.

A peculiar weakness which I am sure you will overcome is a sort of blankness which comes over you in the attempt to be dignified. You must avoid any tendency toward a "cold fishy stare," or any inclination to freeze up the other person, who may be inferior to you.

I am sure you will see the need of being gracious, Blanche, and will know how to do this without losing any of the value of your dignity.

Taking the separate letters of your name, the B indicates tactfulness and diplomacy; the L shows expressiveness and ability to handle a crowd; the A gives you prominence and leadership; the N develops liveliness and the ability to manage long journeys; the C finds a commercial value in your power to express; H inclines to successful management of money; while the E broadens your view of the world and its society.

Blanche Bates, a great actress in her time, and Blanche Sweet of more modern attainment, exemplify these things.

Gems Must Be Polished

Diamonds as they come from the ground have approximately the same color as when they are cut, except that they are rough and do not have a polished surface, although some are unusually smooth. They generally have a greasy look, like pieces of glass covered with vaseline. To give them their characteristic appearance it is always necessary to cut them into the proper shape.

High Cost of Carelessness

Carelessness on the part of letter writers gives much additional labor and expense to the government inasmuch as 200,000,000 letters are given "directory service" annually; 25,000,000 of this total are found to be undeliverable and eventually are sent to the dead letter office.

THE SEAT OF THE SCORNFUL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Since they have been capable of conscious emotion men have desired happiness and have sought it in every occupation of life. One has only to look about him to know how very many unhappy people there are in the world. Four thousand years ago it was as it is today In King David's time men were searching in vain for happiness and that keen observer of human nature laid down certain laws for reaching a happy and a contented state of mind.

"Happy is the man," he says, "who walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful."

There is no happiness resulting in a deviation from virtue, in the violation of law, nor in a feeling of superiority over those with whom we associate daily. Virtue, honesty, humbleness of mind—these characteristics are at the foundation of happiness.

Youth, it seems to me, has a little tendency these days to stand on one side watching the procession of middle-aged and old passing by and to curl his lips and raise his eyebrows in a somewhat supercilious way, scorning the faith and the accomplishment and the manner of life of those who have preceded him.

The easiest thing in the world is to criticize what other people have done or believed; to find weaknesses and faults and mistakes of all sorts, to scorn what has been done by our elders. But the scornful are never happy. One might imagine that there might be a sense of satisfaction in a feeling of superiority, but it is not so.

I attended a convention of young people not many weeks ago, and after it was over I had a letter from one of the delegates. He had taken no part in the discussions, but he was scathing in his comments upon the way the business had been carried on and upon the character of the legislation which had been enacted. His whole attitude was one of superiority and scorn of his fellows, but he was far from happy.

As I was coming from Honolulu to San Francisco last summer I met on the boat a British missionary who had spent most of his life working with the people of India in some way if possible to make their lives happier and more comfortable, and their religion more vital. He told us of his faith and his work one afternoon as we sat about the lounge—simply, sincerely, and I thought very effectively. There was a young girl listening with a sneer on her face, scornful of every reference to the power of religion to mold men's lives. She was superior to everything of that sort. She had no use for religion of any sort, she said, and especially for the Christian religion. But her face was hard, unsympathetic, discontented. She was terribly unhappy.

Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion of the world, successfully underwent a kidney operation at the Presbyterian hospital, New York. A stone about the size of a bean was removed from the organ.

Squirrels' Stores of Fir Seed Robbed for Market

Ryderwood, Wash.—Lumbermen now save by-products of forests. Three thousand bushels of fir seed cones were purchased by a lumber company at Longview, where drying operations to extract the valuable seed are in progress.

From a ton to one and one-half tons of clean seed will be obtained from these cones. Harvesters received $5 a bushel for them; the lumber company expects $15 a pound for the tree seed. Australia, Europe, Japan and New Zealand as well as the United States are in the market.

Hundreds of bushels of cones were recovered from caches made by gray squirrels, and thousands of these animals will have to hustle other winter supplies. Cones stored by rodents contain the finest seed, declare foresters.

Experiment in Aviation Safety

Washington.—The army air corps will carry out an experiment to make long distance flights safer through the use of the short wave radio when the first pursuit group wings its way over the 3,500 miles of ice-bound country from Mt. Clemens, Mich., to Spokane, Wash., and back, in the near future.

Should the experment prove a success, it is understood, the army is expected to issue an order that all army planes making long distance flights must be protected by short wave radio devices.

The present experiment is to be carried out with the aid of the American Radio Relay league and the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y. Eighteen fast pursuit planes and a slower and much larger "mother" radio ship will be in the experimental group.

The radio ship will follow the speedy fighting planes and will keep a sharp lookout for ships in distress. Every morning the radio ship will be in communication with the powerful short wave station of the General Electric company at Schenectady. That station will listen for the first ten minutes of each flying hour for S O S signals from the radio ship.

If an S O S is sent and received the Schenectady station will rebroadcast it to the army air corps posts in the area where the accident has occurred. Also arrangements will be made to send the S O S out through regular long wave radio stations to the Northwest in order to inform people living in the vicinity.

Hog Trees Black Bear That Attacked Her Pig

Vashon, Wash.—A strange tale of black bear's being treed by a hog is vouched for by Stein Dunkel.

The rancher came upon the scene just as the bear had attempted to steal a baby pig. He hastened home for his rifle. Upon returning he found the big bear was in a tree with the hog patroling its base.

Morning Snooze Better Than Setting-Up Drills

New York.—It is not only nicer to stay in bed, when the sun shining overhead, or however Harry Lauder's song phrases it, but it is a lot wiser than getting up and going through those setting-up exercises the radio boys reel off for the hopeful.

This is the opinion of the 124 members of the Society of Directors of Physical Education in Colleges, as expressed in a report read at their thirty-third annual meeting at the Hotel Astor.

Such exercises contribute little of social, psychological, safety or recreational value and add very little to the physical development of their adherents, the report states.

This report was the result of two years of investigation conducted by the committee on curriculum research, and is based on the answers from these 124 members of the association. Of the 30 sports listed, calisthenics rates a poor twenty-ninth. Swimming and diving rate first.

Town in North Alaska Hears Continuous Radio

Point Barrow, Alaska.—This northernmost tip of Alaska is enjoying one continuous round of enjoyable music gathered in by radio from all parts of the world. Because of the strategic radio position near the top of the world and the almost continuous darkness, combined with remarkable clarity of the atmosphere and differences in time, Point Barrow radio fans receive perfect programs from Japan, England, Germany, the United States and all corners of the globe.

The term "shin plasters" as applied to paper money is United States slang. Originally it meant any paper money. It is said to have been applied first to the depreciated Continental currency after the War of the Revolution.

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of good water.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends.

Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headachy, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made today according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting; thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

POULTRY

PLAN TO PREVENT POULTRY LOSSES

Poor Production Usually Due to Insanitary Methods.

Successful poultrymen realize that practically all heavy losses in poultry are preventable, according to Charles N. Keen, assistant professor in poultry at the Colorado Agricultural college.

Heavy losses and poor production in poultry are usually due, Mr. Keen says, to some of the following factors: Failure to have clean houses, clean feed, clean water, birds free from parasites and failure to remove sick birds from the houses.

The fact that one changes the straw regularly does not mean that the house is in a good sanitary condition. Regular cleaning of the dropping boards must go with it. When you enter a poultry house during cold weather and the odor is such as to make you halt when you open the door, it is evident that the air is not sanitary.

The practice of feeding in open hoppers, dishpans and the like, allows droppings to get into the mash feed. This spreads disease and causes a great deal of waste. Stagnant water left in the house for 24 hours, to three or four days at a time, is not a sanitary condition.

Birds which are affected with lice and mites become weakened and subject to disease. The following system used at the Colorado experiment station while birds are housed during the winter has proved very satisfactory, and we have little trouble with disease.

Dropping boards are cleaned three times a week or more and sprayed often with a spray consisting of 50 per cent crankcase oil and 50 per cent distillate or kerosene with one-half pint creosote disinfectant added to five gallons of the mixture. This spray is used from once a week to once a month, depending upon the amount needed. The dropping boards are oily from this spray. This helps in cleaning them during cold weather.

A good disinfectant mixed with water is used for nests and other parts of the house several times a year. For lice the perches are painted with nicotine sulphate four or five times a year, or more often if necessary. Whenever colds appear a good disinfectant is used in the water, and any birds appearing weak or showing a tendency to roup, are removed. All birds which become sick are killed. It is surprising how much the killing of a few diseased birds will save.

Sunlight for Poultry Flock Quite Essential

During the winter months the location and adjustment of windows in the laying house are very important. There should be windows in each end of the house so that sunlight will strike the entire floor some time during the day. Along the south wall should be a large number of windows, and it is preferable that these be made of a high grade glass substitute which permits the entrance of the maximum amount of ultra-violet ray. Muslin curtains and ordinary glass are not satisfactory for this purpose. These windows should be well fitted and should be kept clean as the ultra-violet ray does not penetrate through dust and dirt. Furthermore it is better that they be arranged so they can be taken down during the summer months and not subjected to weathering.

Adequate Ventilation Essential for Poultry

Adequate ventilation is important for a profitable poultry flock. Sufficient fresh air must be admitted to replace the moisture-laden air thrown off by the birds. It must be admitted so as to avoid drafts. The open front principle is used extensively in many sections. It has been determined that the openings in the front wall should equal approximately one-tenth of the floor area. To protect the flock during severe storms frames covered with a light weight of muslin may be used in the front openings.

Avoid Diseases

Raising strong healthy chicks is largely a problem of keeping them away from the infection and diseases which thrive in old poultry yards.

Experience proves that although the old birds are free from the effects of disease, they harbor many diseases which prove destructive to young chicks.

Wire screen floors have been used successfully for years by some poultrymen and their use is increasing rapidly.

Needs Shell Material

A hen producing 200 eggs a year must be supplied with sufficient calcium carbonate, so that after the loss that comes through digestion, she still will be able to deposit around the egg in the form of shell nearly three pounds of shell forming material. Such heavy calcium carbonate or eggshell production demands serious consideration. Even though every other requirement is supplied, a deficiency of calcium carbonate will be limiting factor in production.

Chicks Crowd

One cause of large losses among chicks that are brooded artificially results from crowding. If for any reason the chicks become chilled they are apt to crowd together in order to keep warm. This piling up usually results in the death of several chicks at the bottom of the pile. Even if they do not die they will be stunted. Their digestive systems will be so upset that they will not eat as they should and growth will stop, making them practically worthless.

Neat Performer in Right Field

EDMUND J. MILLER, known to the baseball world as "Bing" Miller, is a neat performer in his native territory, right field. Real outfielders must hit and in this respect Miller is an apt gardener. His average of .340 is ten points lower than that of his rival, Cuyler, but that average is more than fair. Miller covers much ground and throws well enough. In the latter art he is also shaded by the bulletlike peg of Cuyler.

"Bing" Miller.

"Bing" has done most of his big company work with the Athletics. He was with Washington in 1921, but entered the Mack fold the next season, to remain there for four years almost. The latter part of 1926 he skipped down to the Brown camp and finished the season there. He spent the next season with St. Louis, too. In 1928 Mack took him back to Philadelphia, where he has been ever since.

Miller has always been a dangerous man at the plate. His average of .342 with the Mackmen in 1924 was the best he ever turned in. He is right around that mark now and by chance might better it.

Miller is a big, good-natured fellow and laughs when you call him Edmund. It is probable that the work of Cuyler will not overshadow Miller's to any great degree in the 1930 season. The rivalry between these two players is keen.

Navy Will End Season With Ohio State Teams

Naval academy baseball players will close their 1930 season with Ohio State as opponents, Lieut Com. Frederick G. Reinicke, graduate manager of athletics, said.

The Middies have had four open dates on the baseball card, but the June week date of May 31 has been accepted by Ohio State. Last June Ohio State met the Middies in track. Washington and Lee has been given the April 26 date on the ball card.

The Middies will again end their la crosse season with the University of Maryland, while St. Johns of Annapolis will aid Army in closing its season a year hence.

He plays the field on the baseball team and is on the swimming team.

Game of Ice Hockey Is 50 Years Old in Canada

Ice hockey is half a century old in Canada, where the game originated in 1880. By 1890 the sport was well organized in Toronto and had spread through most of the Dominion by that time.

Yale took up the sport first in the United States in 1897. The game was popular there and soon other Eastern colleges had teams. Those to follow Yale are Harvard, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Princeton.

Until 1912 there were seven men to a team. In that year the team was reduced to six men.

But in the last ten years the sport has had its greatest growth. In the formation of professional leagues it has become known to the sporting world and players are in great demand today. Most of the professional players come from Canada, where the game is popular as an amateur sport.

Professional Football Had Successful Season

The National Football league, which enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in the history of this professional organization, finished the season with all twelve starting clubs intact, an unusual occurrence. The championship went to the Green Bay Packers of Wisconsin, who finished the season with a record of twelve victories, one tie and no defeats.

The Packers, despite their great strength, were pressed from the start by the New York Giants, who finished in second place with only one defeat, that at the hands of the new champions. The New York eleven did exceptionally well in attracting fans, the average attendance being about 25,000. Every scheduled game was played despite very disagreeable weather on several week-ends during the season.

Canada Won From United States in Curling Game

As usual the most important competition in curling during the past year was the event for the Gordon International Medal. This competition was held in Montreal and Canada regained the title from the United States. The Canadians scored a total of 405 points to 372 for the Americans.

In the competition for the Gordon Grand National Medal, held at Schenectady, the team of that city carried off the laurels, which had been won by the Utica team last year. In the final round the Schenectady curlers defeated the Pines of Saranac Lake by 16 to 9.

Yanks Have Scheduled 32 Games in Spring Training

Over a stretch from March 8 to April 13 the New York Yankees will play 32 exhibition games, including a trip through the Southern association territory. The exhibition season will open with the Boston Braves at St. Petersburg and close with Brooklyn at the Yankee stadium.

The spring opposition will include a wide variety of baseball teams. In addition to the Braves and Robins contests will be played with the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds. The minor league opposition runs the scale from class B to AA, and one college team, the University of Texas.

Sports Pay Big

Boxing and wrestling brought the state of Illinois a net profit of $72,488.40 during the fiscal year of the Illinois State Athletic commission, which ended December 1.

A report issued by Maj. Gen. John V. Clinnin, chairman of the commission, revealed that gross receipts were $141,980.80, with expenses of $60,492.40 for maintaining the offices of the commission and providing inspectors and officials.

HOLDOUT SEASON ON IN BASEBALL

Demands for More Dough Given Little Publicity.

The holdout season now is officially on in the baseball world. Of course, Babe Ruth opened his personal season weeks ago and there were a few echoes from Lefty O'Doul, Burleigh Grimes, and Wes Ferrell.

Now, anybody who hasn't signed his contract can hold out for any reason whatsoever. And he can be assured of a degree of privacy, for the usual demands for more dough at this season of the year are given little or no publicity. It's not until the traveling secretaries start buying training camp tickets that the rank and file of holdout troops begin to get space in the public prints.

Members of the two championship teams usually are the main aggressors in this phase of the holdout era. This year promises to be no exception, especially with the world champion Athletics. Most of Connie Mack's boys are due to sign new documents, and there is no reason to believe that any one of them will hurry much about signing the first contracts offered them.

The Eastern Interclub Basketball league at a meeting held at the Crescent club, New York, named Dr. Charles W. Dayton as president to fill the unexpired term of Horace Fritts of the Monclair club, who has resigned. H. L. Van Richards, also of the Montclair club, will serve as vice president.

The league voted to adopt the intercollegiate rules for the remainder of the schedule.

The Amateur Athletic Union is going to get its shoulder behind hockey in the immediate future, according to President Avery Brundage. E. C. Delaporte of the Chicago A. A. U. has been appointed chairman of the hockey committee and will outline a program within the next few days.

The A. A. U plans to manage the sport the same as track. Heretofore hockey has been in the hands of an affiliated national organization.

New York will not be without its Rockne influence during the 1930 football season. John Law, Notre Dame's 1929 football captain, has been appointed assistant coach at Manhattan college. Law, leader of one of the greatest teams Rockne ever put on the field, and his teammate, Cannon, were rated as the best pair of guards in the country.

Smead Jolley is the first Coast league player to hit 30 home runs in three successive seasons. He had 30 in 1927, 45 in 1928 and 35 in 1929, total 110 in three years. Other San Francisco players hitting 30 home runs in one season were: Bert Ellison, 33 in 1924; Frank Borwer, 36 in 1925; Frank O'Doul, 33 in 1927; Earl Averill, 36 in 1929, and Gus Suhr, 51 in 1929.

Ike Boone of the Mission Reds of the Pacific Coast league had the highest batting average of any player in organized baseball last season among the players who participated in more than 100 games. Only three players in twenty leagues, whose official averages have been released, compiled batting averages of .400. The three players were: Ike Boone, Mission, Pacific Coast, .407; Cramer, Martinsburg, Blue Ridge, .404; H. Pember, McCook, Nebraska State, .400.

Dr. James Naismith, who invented basketball, watched a game at Kansas recently in which the experiment of eliminating the center jump was tried. Afterward he stated that the elimination of the tip-off made the game monotonous, but also made it a little faster.

Fred Lindstrom, star third baseman of the New York Giants' club, has recovered from sickness that marred his efficiency in last year's play and is fit and ready for the fast approaching season, according to word received by the Giants' club from Lindstrom.

Lindstrom has been recuperating from an operation for tonsils. It is believed that infected tonsils caused the decline in his play in the 1929 season. Last year he played in 139 games and batted .318. His fielding record was only one point below those of Andy High of St. Louis and Pinkey Whitney of Philadelphia, the leaders.

But his 1929 performances were below those of 1928 in which he batted .358 and led the league in third base fielding.

Notre Dame's undefeated football squad elected Tom Conley, left end, captain of next fall's team. The election was held at the annual monogram banquet and Coach Rockne, who has been confined to his home since the middle of the last football season with a leg ailment, made his first public appearance with the aid of a cane.

A beautiful trophy has been donated by George King, well-known Toronto hockey enthusiast, for the most popular player in the National Hockey league.

It seems rather strange to arrange nearly a year in advance for a trainer to try with a horse for a two-minute record, but that is the case with the gray pacing mare, Gilda Gray, 2:01¾, which Lon McDonald of Indianapolis recently sold to a California sportswoman for $10,600. One of the conditions of the sale was that McDonald is to make the journey to the Arizona State fair meeting at Phoenix next November and endeavor to give the gray mare a record inside the two-minute list. The Phoenix track is one of the fastest in the country; Guy McKenney, 1:58¾, and Mr. McElwyn, 1:59¼, both took their best records there.

The 1930 woman's national golf championship, to be played on the Country club course, will be decided October 13 to 18 inclusive, the United States Golf association has announced.

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

5218 Happy People Give up Their Secret

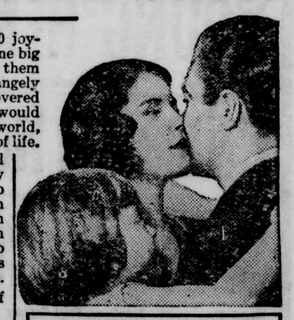
JUST suppose you could get 5000 joyously happy people together in one big hall and could ask them what made them all so full of pep. Suppose, strangely enough, that all of them had discovered the same way to be happy. You would feel that here, if anywhere in the world, was the secret of how to get joy out of life.

This is just what has happened during the last few weeks. We knew there were millions of people who had found the secret of happiness in the same way, and we asked them in one or two small announcements in the magazines and newspapers to tell us their story. Letters came to us from practically all over the globe.

All of them said "The secret of happiness is health."

How to get this health? The way that all of these people had discovered was not some magic medicine, not some powerful drug, not some difficult course of training—but only a simple, harmless, natural method. It was to keep the body internally clean, sweeping its natural poisons away each day, regularly as clock work—by the use of Nujol.

These people had made a great discovery. They had found out that Nujol contains no drugs; that it is as tasteless and colorless as pure water; pleasant to take and forms no habit; that it cannot hurt you, no matter how much you take; that it is non-fattening; not absorbed by the body; that it is only the internal lubrication your body needs, just like any other machine.



They have found the way to Buoyant, Zestful Health, and the Joy that goes with it

It sounds like a fairy tale, doesn't it, to be well and happy so easily? Well, all you need to do to find out if these people have made a real discovery is to get a bottle of Nujol today at any drug store and take it for two weeks. It costs but a few cents and it makes you feel like a million dollars. The sure way to happiness is through health.

They made their headquarters in Pasadena and from there visited Los Angeles, Riverside, Redlands and other places of interest. On the return trip stops were made at Carmel and Big Basin. Mr. and Mrs. Rollins will be here for several weeks longer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sweat are visitors from Nevada at the home of Mrs. A. E. McNeeley and Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Netherton in San Carlos Gardens.

Joseph Nash of the San Carlos Feed and Fuel Company is quite ill at his home in San Carlos Gardens. His many friends are hoping for a speedy recovery.

Word was received here this week of the birth of a son to Dr. and Mrs. Roy Woodhams in Belgian Congo, Africa. The child, the fourth in the family, made its appearance on December 14, and has been named Robert James. Dr. Woodhams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Woodhams and a brother of Mr. Clifton H. Woodhams. He is a medical missionary in Africa.

On Saturday evening, February 22, a dance will be given by Burlingame Post No. 163, American Legion. The affair is being given for the Post's building fund, and will be held at Pacific City. Tickets are $1.00, ladies complimentary.

'The Love Parade' Is Endowed With Genius

Maurice Chevalier, who has become the greatest European actor to achieve success in American films since Emil Jannings, will be seen and heard in his most gorgeous picture to date when "The Love Parade" opens at the Sequoia Theatre for a 3-day run beginning on Sunday next.

"The Love Parade" is something different in all-talking musical film productions, just as Chevalier is a personage entirely different from all other screen types.

In the first place "The Love Parade" was written for the audible screen. It is not a film version of any previous stage production, it was created expressly for the screen's values for amusement uppermost in the minds of the geniuses who created it.

TELEPHONE AIDS IN CALIFORNIA MOBILIZATION

American Legion Members Called to Posts by Radio—Test Reported by Wire

Fifteen thousand members of the American Legion at various posts throughout California were mobilized recently in less than four hours when a test was made to determine the speed at which the veterans' organization could be prepared to take the field for duty in case of emergency.

The telephone was the connecting link which served to call the men to duty. By arrangement with the National Broadcasting Company and by command of the Governor, all legionnaires were ordered to mobilize by reporting to their post headquartes at once. The appeal was broadcast over Stations KGO and KFI at 7:30 p. m. Post commanders reported to their district commanders by telephone the number of men mobilized, and the districts in turn reported to the area commanders, and as a final link between the mobilization forces and the state commander the areas reported to headquarters in San Francisco the total number of men that had been mobilized in each area.

A total of 201 posts reported by Long Distance telephone that 15,000 men were ready for duty less than four hours after the appeal was broadcast. In addition to the members of the legion, the appeal was also answered by members of the Boy Scouts, interested citizens and legion auxiliaries, which swelled the total to nearly 30,000 persons.

Society

Mrs. V. H. Park gave a dinner party last Sunday in honor of the seventy - second birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. H. Rasmussen of 630 Vera avenue. Another daughter, Mrs. Vincent Rogers and son, Wilson Rogers, came up from Fresno for the affair. Others present were the two sons, Carl and Roy Rasmussen, Mrs. Bertha Werder, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carlson of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Parks of San Francisco.

The table was decorated in pink and white, the large birthday cake with birthday greetings and lighted candles carrying out the same color scheme.

Mrs. Henry A. Beeger entertained at an enjoyable bridge luncheon given at her home on Duane street Tuesday. The guests included Mrs. Victoria Gorria, Mrs. Russell Fox, Mrs. W. G. Bruce, Mrs. Walter Tomilson, Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mrs. John Lutge, Mrs. William Sweet, Mrs. Harvey Conner, Mrs. J. L. Barneson, Mrs. Carl Stoner, Mrs. Spencer of Palo Alto and the Misses Gertrude and Lulu Beeger.

High scores in the bridge games were won by Mrs. Tomilson, Mrs. Spencer and Miss Gertrude Beeger.

Big Telephone Cable Laid To Martha's Vineyard

A submarine cable, the largest cable of its type that can be manufactured at the present time, has been laid between Martha's Vineyard, off the southeastern coast of Massachusetts, and the mainland. This new cable will serve the Islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket and will supplement a small cable which was laid in 1918 and which is still in operation.
